Dangling conversations it's still lifewater color,
of a now late afternoon,
as the sun shines through the curtainlace, and shadows wash the room.

And we sit and drink our coffee,
couched in our indifference,
like waves upon the shore.

Are we apathetic?
Do the people at CLC really care?

We at California Lutheran College should ask ourselves if we are a group or if we are apart.

I used to just sit around and watch what was going on, I wouldn't really participate, I didn't know what I wanted to do. But now I feel a real unity with everyone. I have found my place and I am comfortable in it.

you can hear the ocean roar,

in the dangling conversation

And the superficial sighs, the borders of our lives.

Do we have borders on our lives? What borders are put on CLC students?

Does conversation limit us? What limitations do we put on ourselves in conversation?

Wouldn't it be great if we never had to talk, that people could just feel what we want to say. Language is a border for me; I can never say anything without having someone twist my words into something that I didn't mean at all. I am afraid to even open my mouth.

I find that I cannot successfully relay my feelings to others when I talk. I get all uptight and start talking too fast and then I can't understand myself. I try to say too much at one time. I can talk with myself on the mountaintop better that on the campus . . . conversations thin out . . . silence comes softly there . . . above the crowd. . .

and you read your Emily Dickinson,
and I my Robert Frost,

and we note our place with
book markers
that measure what we've lost.

like a poem poorly written,
we are verses out of rhythm,

Couplets out of rhyme, in syncopated time,

in the dangling conversation
and the superficial sighs,
are the borders of our lives.

Inauguration

"How but in custom and in ceremony are innocence and beauty born? Ceremony's a name for the rich horn, And custom for the spreading laurel tree."

Ceremony at last! And Beauty. And the greening of Cal-Lutheran gave off fragrance to be remembered as a new administration gave public expression to committment, dedication, and building. And the faculty, staff, and new team expressed that fragrance of newness in joy, in music and dancing, in wonder . . . and ceremony became decorous instead of mundance . . . and innocence is retained in the face of the trial of committees, classes, programs . . .

and beauty is expressed . . .
and joy is spontaneous . . .
and Cal-Lutheran gives of sparks!

Football

When the sun hits the top of the blue canopy above the Conejo hills, the pounding ground sends tremors to fans; people sweeping porches pause in wonder; ground squirrels sit nervously by their burrows, poised for action. And action begins at 2 pm in Mt. Clef Stadium on Autumn Saturdays. Cleats, sweat, pain, terror, sacrifice, heat, water, towels, dirt . . . pounding, grinding, hurting again and again . . . and the radio tells the porch sweepers the score . . . the photographers wait for the great shot . . . and the ground squirrels bark and jump straight up as the tremors spread across the burnt hills . . .

Printing: The etching

Jeanne Wood demonstrates the printing process

Step 1, Right: The process starts by the person putting the etching in the acid bath as to bring the engraving out. This is done to make the etching more precise. Step 2, Below Right: next, one prepares for the printing by inking the plate. Step 3, Below Right: After the plate has been inked excess is removed and paper preparation is all that is necessary before a print can be made.

Step 4, Above Left: The first process for preparing the paper involves the soaking of it in order to provide consistency in the printing. Step 5, Above Right: After the soaking the paper is blotted; again to provide a consistency in the printing. Step 6, Below Left: Now the printing itself may be done; the printers press is rolled over the plate creating an image on the paper. Step 7, Below Right: The result is a well defined print, showing exactly what had been engraved on the metal plate.

BE A CHILD

Be a child again
Go naked in your innocence
Let yourself be caressed,
By the soft summer grass;
And taught by the wisdom
Of the trees
To stand still and listen
For the sound of the silent wind.
Christine Grimm

Photographer Mark Hall

Impatiently waiting, anticipating
The moment we meet again.
Unendlessly dreaming. hopelessly scheming
What I might say and when.

Thoughtlessly thinking, soundlessly sinking
When our eyes finally see.
Silently staring, seeming uncaring
Can't seem to find my way free.

Ponderously pouting, secretly shouting Can't take it anymore.
Childishly smiling, becoming beguiling
We surrender our wordless wars.

HEARTACHES AND MEMORIES

Here I am alone.
Thinking
Of times,
Heartaches and memories.

It's these things
That
Bring me
To this place in life.

All of my life
Wings
On by.
Here I am alone.

It's when I think
Of
All these things
That sorrow fills my soul.

Since it's all Alone
Again,
Thinking Heartaches and Memories.

A POEM FOR LOVE

The smells of Great flower,
brings love into mind;
Shear beauty alone,
amoungst untold pine;
Oh such a force,
yet so unwelmingly mild;
Unknown by the smile,
of a small young child.

Learning to us
may be such a trial;
For seems that is why
we grow old in awhile.
It will be,
Only love with that child
Grow older yet know,
the love in thy soul

Hard work ... fair play ... rules ... sacrifices ... the list is as endless as the tasks the team must tackle ... President Mathews, Dean Ristuben ... more than managers and coaches ... yet, that too ... Pastor Swanson ... pep talks? oh, much more! ... Dean Kragthorpe with schedules and advice ... Dean Buchanan controls money for bats and balls ... Rev. Kindem who gets the bleachers.

A team to respond ... work ... plan ... lead
A team to work together for the common good ...
CLC is that common good ...
